

Kaleidoscope Kolliding

Fraktal like a stained glass window
Kraking, falling, into my eye

FraKtal like a boundless beach
Koastline's breadth unknowable

Fraktal like an alphabet
Ever-changing, ever stuk

Sharp, sharp like a K
Kan I fokus while kolliding

I wish it were easy
Soft, soft like a C

Unperfectable

K and C, C and K
I was a kid once too
English is no child
No unfinished excerpt

Focus, lock in
Nothing's perfect
Nothing's known

You are perfekt, yes
But we are perfect

Ctrl +, Ctrl +, Ctrl +

clickity clack clickity clack clickity
clack clack clack

This looks normal enough, certainly more readable
Words no longer like ants, words no longer like me

Ink is a thing of the past, who would want it?
Can ink do this? Can it? Can it do this?

Ctrl +, ctrl +, ctrl +

Every word like a title in 11-point font
Easier to read, easy enough to type

I do not have eye problems, I promise
I can see just fine. I just want a little more—

Ctrl +

Ctrl +

It doesn't work. Oh well. Magnify.

Spread your fingers wide on the trackpad.
Magnify more, and more, and more.

Can you still read the words?
Tell me. Stay put, do not scroll.

Can ink do this? Can ink do this?
Can ink do this? Can ink do this?

Can I read this? Why can't I read this?
Why do we call it magnify? Can people magnify?

Are magnifying glasses real? Can ink do this?

I've got my ink back. Imperfect? Yes.
I dream of better handwriting.
My eyes are most perfect here, now.

Click N' Play City Map Non-Slip Rug- For Kids

Running a matchbox car, fashioned from aluminum (probably)
Over a rug made from barley & cotton (certainly not)

Click N' Play gave me no instructions with this rug
This car wasn't made to be played with on this rug

Sharp sounds swishing softly on page and on rug
Absent is the turning of an instruction book

Poems don't have rules, silly

If they do, it's our job to Break
Them

Words are a puzzle, silly

Assembly them upside down, if you want
Focus on the big picture

Run-on sentences are a tool used to constrain creativity and they don't know a thing about how people talk or how people speak i mean who wouldn't want to talk like this

Zoom out, stop focusing

Look, I've got a glitter pen now!

It's big picture now, baby, all day and all night

*Now it's pink! ♡

Leave text to float and fly above it all

Sit this game out, champ
Es ist immer moralisch korrekt.

Как насчет того, чтобы попробовать совершенно новый сценарий?
Переводчикам всегда можно доверять, поверьте мне.

Scan that with your phone, I dare you. Write all over and tell me what it says!

Assemble yourself a puzzle
Look at it from above.

I love you <3

I love you I love you and I love your puzzle <3333 ♡ ♡

Focus on the big picture. Fuel your fire with the small pictures.

I think I can finally call you free
